If Bama had stayed injury free last year, they may have beaten S Carolina and Arkansas as in each game they were forced to start a QB making his first start. All of their other losses could have easily been wins if one or two plays had gone their way. Despite the 6-6 season and a myriad of injuries, they actually outgained foes last year overall by 81.2 ypg. They are low on scholarships and the 11 seniors on the 2 deep are the fewest in the SEC plus they pull Florida and Tenn out of the East. All 4 SEC road games fall into the winnable category and Bama could actually be a surprise National Title contender.
