USF was -10 in turnovers and generally that means that teams improve the next season. USF has 14 returning starters but they do lose the most lettermen in the league (28). Another negative for the Bulls this year is that they must play 4 road games in the unbalanced schedule of the Big East so they get just 3 at home. Andre Hall figures to be one of the stars in the league and the defense will be stronger after last year's injury-plagued group, which had 24 different players earn starts. USF is a stronger team this year than the 2004 squad but the schedule has me calling for them to finish here.
